Product Description

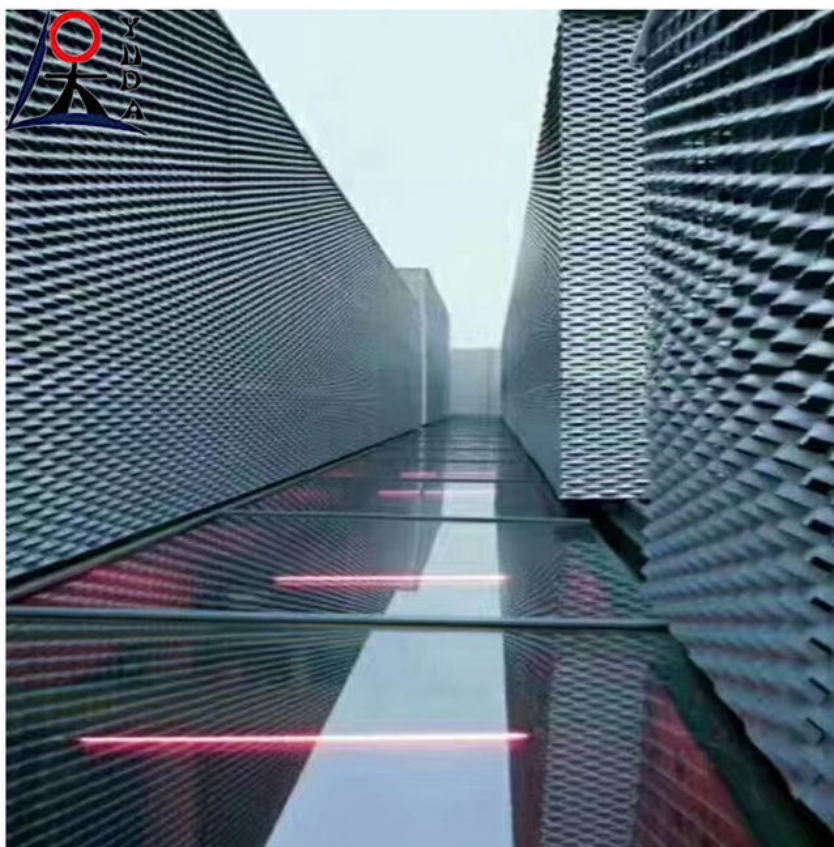

Diamond Mesh Galvanized Expanded Metal Wire Mesh For Security

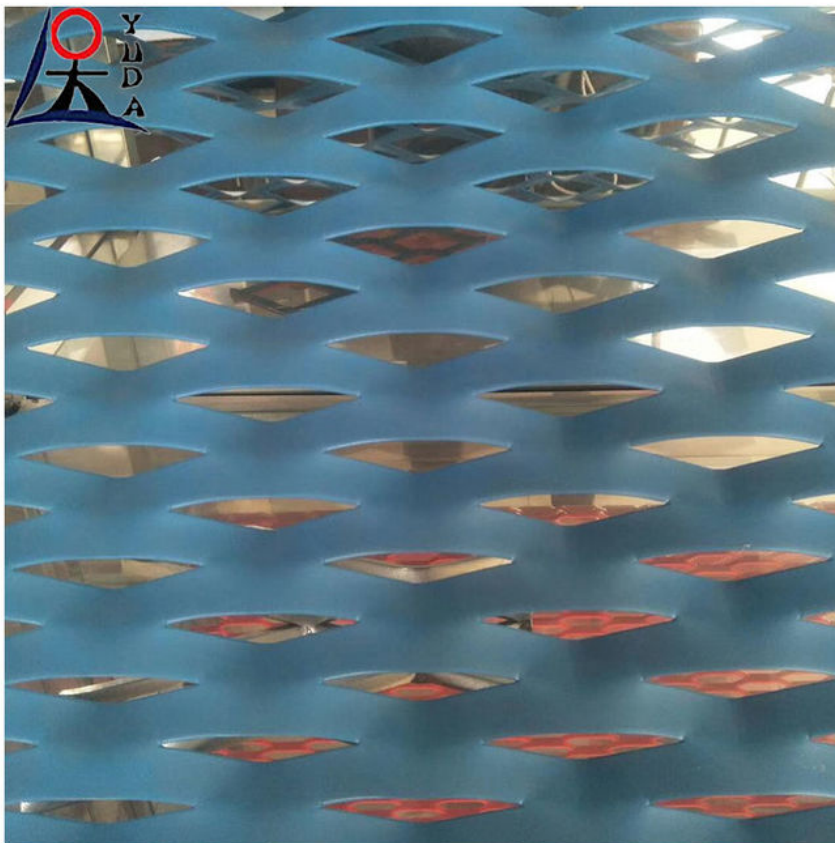

Expanded metal mesh has a variety of applications in agriculture, here are some of the common ones:

Livestock and poultry fencing: expanded metal mesh can be used as livestock and poultry fencing for building livestock and poultry enclosures. It is strong, durable, ventilated and light-permeable, and easy to install and maintain. It can effectively enclose livestock and poultry, protect their safety, and serve as separation and management.

Plant support: expanded metal mesh can be used to support plant growth. It can be made into various shapes and sizes of supports for vegetables,
